

Maria Moundridou is an Assistant Professor of 'Educational Technology & Multimedia' in the Department of Education at the School of Pedagogical and Technological Education (ASPETE) in Athens, Greece, since 2007. She received her Ph.D. in Informatics from the University of Piraeus, Greece, in 2002 and her B.Sc. in Informatics from the Athens University of Economics and Business in 1996. Her research interests span Intelligent Tutoring Systems (ITS), Adaptive Hypermedia Systems (AHS), ITS and AHS Authoring Tools, Web-based educational systems and applications, Human-Computer Interaction, User Modelling, and Virtual Learning Environments. She has actively participated in a number of national and European R&D projects and project proposals in her areas of research. She has published in several prestigious journals and conference proceedings and currently, there are more than 500 citations to her published work.

[✉ mariam@aspete.gr]