

Specialized Didactics of Subject Areas

COURSE CONTENT:

Didactics of Theoretical Subjects

Topics

1. Introductory Background
 - Conceptual definitions: Literacy theory, functional and critical literacy, school literacy, academic literacy, emerging literacies, 21st-century skills
 - Types of literacy related to digital technologies: Information literacy, technological literacy, digital literacy, media literacy, digital game literacy
2. New Literacies, Digital Technologies, and Theoretical Subjects
 - Theory of multiliteracies
 - Digital textuality
 - Visual literacy and digital technologies
 - Tools and techniques for cultivating visual literacy
3. Characteristics of Digital Textuality
 - Multimodality and didactics of language, literature, and history
 - Digital tools for creating multimodal digital constructs
4. Digital Storytelling
 - Definition
 - Characteristics
 - Educational Applications
 - Digital tools for creating digital narratives
5. New Literacies in Practice
 - Critical search for digital information
 - Analysis of multimodal constructs and new representation forms: digital comics, interactive posters, timelines, digital games, infographics
 - Analysis of digital game literacy: case studies of games
 - Principles of creating and evaluating multimedia/multimodal educational content